REFRAMING MURSHIDABAD

“ANNO CHOKHE”: Unknown Sites of Murshidabad

“Murshidabad” - the very name is enough for a curious heart to leap out of its cozy den. Across the district lie scattered here and there various tombs, palaces, cemeteries and ruins bearing witness to a bygone era and providing food for those interested in history. Natural beauty of Murshidabad, varying exceptionally in texture, colour and atmosphere from the east to the west, is a treat to the romantic eyes. This variety, range and vivacity have imparted on Murshidabad its uniqueness. It is unfortunate that much of the nature of that uniqueness still remains unexplored. This photography competition intends to undertake that particular exploration—exploration to discover numerous novel faces of our own beautiful Murshidabad—and thereby expand the border of our knowledge of the district. Thus, it proposes to hold a landmark position in the overall discourse of knowing Murshidabad and taking her to our heart. This event would not only enable us to unravel newer aspects of Murshidabad, but also showcase various angles of developments of growing individual minds whom the College tends to transform into complete, sensitive and sensible human beings.

Future project:

- Prepare a thematic map of Murshidabad.
- Construct a virtual photo gallery (Tasbir-e- Murshidabad)
- Publish an ISBN book with selected articles and photograph.
